15.Multidisciplinary / interdisciplinary

In pursuance of NEP directives and guidelines an interdisciplinary syllabus has decided. The following is an outline of the combination of courses and complimentary courses for students that has been put into action with the start of the July to December, 2023 semester: - 1. Students must elect a minor course outside their major (formerly honours or core) course. The minor course carries the equal weight of 5 credits of the major course per semester. Since the elected minor is remains consistent throughout the programme for the student, it is pertinent that they are briefed thoroughly. Selected teachers perform this task for all fresh admissions. Further, the new students are encouraged to consult with the various instructors of the various minor courses before they commit to their choices. 2. Additionally all students must elect a MDC (Multidisciplinary Course) outside their major course of 3 credits in their 1st and 3rd semesters. The responsibility of the instruction of this course is rotated amongst the departments. 3. An AEC (Ability Enhancement Course) of 3 credits is compulsory for all 1st semester students. Students opt for courses taught by the English and Mizo departments. 4. A VAC (Value Added Course), titled "Universal Human Values", of 3 credits is compulsory for all 1st semester students. The responsibility of the instruction of this course is rotated amongst the departments. Due the College being confined to the Art stream and without any nearby HEI offering courses in alternate streams to collaborate with, the implementation of a truly interdisciplinary programme is at present not possible.

16.Academic bank of credits (ABC):

17.Skill development:

The Skill Enhancement Course (SEC) of Core Concepts in Computers (CCC), certified by NEILIT, has been implemented since July of 2023 as part of the implementation of the NEP Syllabus. This course follows a predefined syllabus of theoretical concepts and practical skills and is taught in the Computer Room. The course is for 3 credits and examinations are held at the end of the semester with certificates awarded to students meeting learning objectives. It has been decided by the College's NEP Implementation Committee that offering multiple SEC's simultaneously is infeasible due to operational constraints of our small institute. Rather, it has been decided that the SEC offered during each academic year will be rotated. Thus, starting from July, 2024 students will be offered Spoken Hindi as the SEC.

18.Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

All teachers of all departments are encouraged in the teaching of all courses to include in their explanations parrallels, examples, or equivalents from India's rich mythology. history, literature and teachings whenever possible. If such illustrations are not applicable or appropreate to the topic taught, concepts and facts are additionally explained in the Indian context to the students. The local vernacular, Mizo, is often used for elaboration and explanation in the classroom. As the general proficiency and confidence with the English language is in much need of improvement in the Aspirational District of Mamit, instruction in the bilingual mode is crucial for communicating core concepts and key ideas. However, instructors are conscious to balance Mizo and English judicially since students must be able to articulate the subtleties and nuances of their topics in English. All study materials handed out in classrooms and through documents online are in English except for the Mizo subject courses. Ultimately, English is the main language of delivery with Mizo playing a supportive role. A Bachelor of Arts with Honours in Mizo programme is available at the institute. All courses are taught in the Mizo language. Mizo students start from studying literary techniques and philosophies encountered in Mizo literature in the first semester, and progress on to appreciating the rich body of folk and historical poems and songs of the field in the second semesters. In the third and fourth semesters they learn about translation and short stories. Core students advance to explore North Eastern and English literature and study in deeper detail fiction and nonfiction works and their cultural contexts.

19. Focus on Outcome based education (OBE): Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

The following are the practices that have been put in place to align the institute with OBE: a. An orientation for students is held at the initiation of every semester. The code of conduct, the level of academic competency to achieve, and attainment targets for soft skills are explained in detail. The aim is not to simply impress upon students what is expected of them but also to positively motivate them to that end. b. All departments have clear written objectives for each course taught. The course outlines and learning objectives explained at the beginning of each semester for each course by teachers. c. The academic calendar is closely followed to harmonize efforts of the faculty in the achievement of goals in a timely manner. Changes, if any are made, are done only by the Principal. d. A review of final marks of students awarded by Mizoram University is undertaken every semester by each department. This is an indicator of the effective performance of both students and teachers and is an important indicator of whether or not academic outcomes have been met.

20.Distance education/online education:

The College is host to an IGNOU Study Centre which was established in 2011 and remains the only one in the Aspirational District of Mamit. It is managed by a Coordinator and an Assistant Coordinator selected from the teaching faculty and assisted by two members selected from the non-teaching faculty of the College. The Centre crucial roles are: communicating between students and the Regional Centre (Aizawl), checking assignments, conducting examinations in adherence to the rules and regulations set by IGNOU, counseling students and maintaining records. The Centre offers degrees in the Arts at the Bachelors and Masters level (such as, Public Administration, Sociology, BBA and MASS) as well as offering one-year diploma certificate courses like Food & Nutrition, Women's Empowerment & Development, and Peace Studies & Conflict Management. The Centre is beneficial for graduates from GMC who cannot secure admission for higher studies outside the district and state and private employees for higher and/or additional degrees. The Centre is especially beneficial for women, specifically mothers and housewives seeking personal educational improvement. During the academic year 34 students were enrolled. Besides the IGNOU Centre the institute does not offer specifically design distance education courses to its enrolled students or to outsiders. However, if teachers feel the need for online classes in addition to offline, they may organize online classes at their discretion.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

The initial measure of a student's learning speed is determined by how they respond to verbal questions in the classroom, their ability to listen and comprehend, and their contribution to discussions. Departmental assessments, which are conducted twice a semester, as well as classroom tests administered at the teacher's discretion, are considered direct and quantitative measures of a student's learning ability, although not completely definitive. In addition, written assignments and presentations are used by teachers to assess the level of learning in their courses.

Advanced learners are provided with additional readings tailored to their specific strengths in order to enhance their academic abilities. Furthermore, they are motivated to engage in extracurricular activities both within and beyond the college level. To foster their leadership skills, they are also encouraged to compete for positions within the college students' union. The College places great emphasis on providing personalized attention to students who struggle with their studies, through close consultation and guidance, as well as through an effective mentoring system. Weak students and even those who excel in certain subjects but face challenges in others are consistently motivated to seek assistance from their teachers outside of regular class hours.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

Any additional information

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

Students are given explicit instructions and comprehensive guidelines to adhere to, whilst embarking on their quest to explore various repositories of knowledge, such as libraries and the vast expanse of the Internet, in order to procure their very own solutions. Engaging in the pursuit of assignment research not only equips the students with the fundamental requisites for achieving success in their academic examinations, but it also nurtures a more extensive comprehension of the subject matter at hand. The microteaching presentations orchestrated by the students necessitate a certain degree of unsupervised, yet directed, research.

The Language Laboratoryplays a vital role in Experience Based Learning (EBL), particularly within the context of Mamit, where the pronunciation of English greatly deviates from the 'standard' model. Excursions to villages sponsored by the institution are arranged, allowing students to gain knowledge and comprehension of the societal and socioeconomic dynamics of communities beyond their own, through observation and interaction. Additionally, activities such as afforestation, cleanliness drives in various locations, campaigns to raise awareness on diverse issues, and rendering community service to villagers through various channels are also imperative to foster participatory learning experiences that extend beyond the confines of the classroom.

2.3.2 - Teachers use ICT enabled tools for effective teaching-learning process. Write description in maximum of 200 words

To facilitate classroom instruction, projectors have been installed in all classrooms, and each department is provided with laptops to conduct ICT-based classes. Notably, Microsoft PowerPoint is predominantly utilized by lecturers and students for delivering lectures and presentations.

WhatsApp has emerged as the primary application employed for communication within the academic setting. Each department has established specific groups for each program offered, and these groups serve as a crucial platform for disseminating important notifications, reminders, alerts, as well as relevant information pertaining to assignments, tests, and schedules. Students actively utilize these groups to voice queries, report illnesses, and address any other issues that may impact their learning experience.

In order to aid instructors in their classroom preparation and the creation of written materials, teachers are provided with a trio of computer printers.

Within the library, there are three internet-connected computers available for student use. These computers grant access to a variety of digital resources, including e-books, N-lists, and the Online Public Access Catalog search function.

The Language Lab is outfitted with ten desktop computers, each equipped with microphone headsets. These computers are utilized for language-focused learning and are operated using the Sanako software. The College is responsible for the maintenance of this lab.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

Prior to the start of the semester, the academic calendar, which outlines the dates of internal assessment tests and assignments are displayed through the campus.

Additionally, two weeks prior to the commencement of internal tests, a schedule detailing the times and dates of these tests is posted on the notice board. The questions for these internal exams adhere to a standardized grade structure and are designed in a manner consistent with Mizoram University exam questions. Upon completion of the grading process, students are provided with constructive feedback regarding their performance in the internal tests. Furthermore, an avenue for students to voice their concerns about their performance is made available, with teachers formally documenting these complaints and ensuring that they are resolved in a transparent manner.

The scores are tabulated and revised, rectified as needed, and presented to the Ministerial Office. The grades for internal examinations are printed and exhibited in notifications before the definitive grades are calculated, which are permanently recorded in the student's academic record. At this stage, the student has the option to contest her grade, and if necessary, it will be modified in close collaboration with her Head of Department.

2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, timebound and efficient

In order to actively mitigate grievances stemming from internal examinations, pertinent information is provided in a timely manner preceding the examination date . An invigilator is present during the examination to address any issues that may arise. Should a student believe that their grade does not accurately reflect their performance, the teacher will reassess the response script and determine whether a grade change is warranted, while also providing a comprehensive rationale for such a decision.

If a student is unable to attend a feedback class due to absence, and if she believes that there is a valid complaint regarding an error in the assessment, she has the option to reach out to the assigned mentor or the department teacher. The final decision on whether the student's complaint is valid and whether corrective action will be taken at the department level lies with the head of department and the concerned department teacher. It is important to note that a student is allowed to file a complaint until her internal grades are submitted to Mizoram University. If the complaint involves serious matters that go beyond the evaluation of complaints, such as the fairness of internal examinations or the integrity of examiners, it is handled by the College Examination Committee in coordination with the Principal.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Teachers and students are aware of the stated Programme and course outcomes of the Programmes offered by the institution.

In order to guarantee the awareness of course outcomes among teachers and students, as well as their capacity to utilize them as a guiding force in the teaching and learning process, a series of measures are implemented.

Firstly, teachers are provided with an elucidation of the learning objectives encompassed within the curriculum and respective courses. Each teacher undertakes this task for the courses they are responsible for during a given semester.

Secondly, upon the completion or commencement of a course by a teacher, the learning objectives are reiterated within the classroom setting.

Lastly, when appraising students' performance in internal assessments, teachers engage in discussions regarding the extent to which the class has successfully fulfilled (or fallen short of) the expectations pertaining to course outcomes.

It is of utmost significance to underscore that the departments bear the ultimate responsibility for ensuring the effective communication of course results.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

Internal assessments are widely regarded as the most accurate and systematic ways to measure student learning outcomes. These assessments take various forms, including the evaluation of students' comprehension of both objectives and achievementrelated aspects. In addition, students are expected to provide precise factual information in their assignments and presentations.

One specific example of an internal assessment is the Oral Communication Tests that are administered to all first semester students enrolled in the Compulsory Foundation Course I. These tests directly evaluate a student's initial sensitivity to the desired learning outcomes. It is important to note that this evaluation is conducted during the first semester of the undergraduate program, which somewhat restricts its ability to gauge the outcomes of subsequent semesters.

Indirect methods of observation that serve to reinforce direct methods of evaluating outcomes encompass teacher observations of students engaging in classroom interactions. These observations not only evaluate the objectives and performance aspects of outcome assessment simultaneously, but also offer the advantage of flexibility in examining students through their interactions within the classroom. The responses and active involvement of students in discussions serve as evidence that students possess both factual and analytical comprehension.

6.3.5 - Institutions Performance Appraisal System for teaching and non- teaching staff

Govt. Mamit College follows Performance Based Appraisal System (PBAS) suggested by UGC for the assessment of teachers. The nonteaching staff maintained Self-Appraisal Report for their performance.

The Department of Higher and Technical Education introduced Academic Performance Indicators (API)/PBAS in which every faculty member has to submit their self-appraisal report giving details about the workload, their involvement in different activities, among others. For the non-teaching staff, their self appraisal report is based on how they perform their duties and is evaluated by the Principal accordingly.

The performance appraisal reports are submitted to the Principal who then forwards it to the Directorate of Higher and Technical Education, Government of Mizoram. After careful evaluation of the PBAS, their destination is decided by the authority.

Performance Appraisal acts as a guide to improve skills for further professional development and enhances their contribution to the instituion and also addesses accountability and employee quality.

6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes

One of our college's policymaking and implementation units is IQAC. It works hard to upgrade the college's instructional resources, physical infrastructure, and all support facilities in order to satisfy higher education standards and the expanding needs of students. It evaluates and offers guidelines for highquality education.

To fulfil this comprehensive demand, IQAC prepared the Teacher's Logbook System to promote the effectiveness of teaching and learning and guarantee both teachers' and students' ongoing growth. Each instructor keeps a log book in which they keep track of their daily teaching and learning activities. This activity aids teachers in lesson/syllabus design and curriculum implementation within the allotted time.

Class summary writing by students: After the teacher has done teaching during each class session, the pupils take a sheet of paper and write down individually what they thought of the lesson. All students who are present in class must participate in the drill. As long as the students are genuine and sincere, they can write whatever they want in their summaries. The main goal of summaries is to summarise the lesson for the time. The teacher double-checks that each participant submits a summary and keeps an eye out for anything notable, such as identifying and monitoring advanced and slow learners. In addition to giving a glimpse into the students' skills, practice also shows how enthusiastic and motivated they are about the subject matter.

6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through IQAC set up as per norms and recorded the incremental improvement in various activities

1. Every academic year, the IQAC collects data from students via surveys in order to better understand their perspectives and levels of satisfaction with the teaching-learning process. The IQAC statistically analyses the data gathered to look for any small improvements by comparing it to the data from previous years. The Principal's Office receives the review's findings and coordinates corrective action with the affected departments and teachers.

2. Information and communication technology (ICT) has been implemented and gradually incorporated into the teachinglearning process due tothe effort and encouragement of the IQAC. The institution has projectors in every classroom, and each department is given a laptop and a portable projector to practice and improve their usage of ICT technologies. The IQAC has consistently advised all teachers to use Microsoft PowerPoint in at least 33% of their lessons. Since the Covid-19 Pandemic, the use of ICT in the classroom has changed, moving from its incorporation in offline classes to its entire reliance on it for online classes. The IQAC has organised practical, hands-on training on frequently used software like Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, and Excel, video conferencing apps like Zoom and Google Meet, and social media apps like Whatsapp in order for educators to improve their competency with ICT tools.

3. Mentoring system: The mentoring system is not confined to academics and caters to the well-being of the student as a whole. Students are free and encouraged to share their personal (non-academic) problems and sentiments with their mentors.

4. Bilingual teaching for students weak in English. Due to the low proliferation of schools imparting functional English education, many students admitted to the college are weak in receiving instruction in the language.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

Best Practice 1: Summary Writing When the teacher finished class teaching, the students are informed to write the class teaching in summary and feedback on what was taught during the class period. This is compulsory for all student attendees of the class. It is generally around 150 words. If students have doubts or questions that must be answered in more detail that could not be addressed before, they are encouraged to use the time of writing the class summaries to approach the teacher.

Best Practice 2: Community Service An important aspect for innovation of the institute's teachinglearning methodologies is the inclusion of experience based learning outside of the campus to balance classroom teaching. For the College, experience based learning isconducted under the practice of community service in the nearby yet separate community of the adopted village -Luangpawl.Majority of the population consists of roughly two hundred jhum cultivating families. Within the past year, almost half of the total extension activities were conducted in Luangpawl. This includes free distribution of food stuff, construction of public urinal shed, renovation of govt. primary school, donation of libraries to 2 schools, and donating rice to community covid care centre. It is believed that these practices would teach the students the importance of community and help them become better citizens who care for their fellow human beings.
